ADVANCED MEDICINE EXCEPTIONAL CARE

BON SECOURS HOSPITAL GROUP

BON SECOURS HOSPITALS – IRELAND'S LARGEST INDEPENDENT HEALTHCARE PROVIDER

Bon Secours Health System is Ireland's largest independent Catholic healthcare provider incorporating a network of four modern acute hospitals in Cork, Dublin, Galway and Tralee. The Group also includes a Consultation Centre in Limerick and a Care Village in Cork. All the acute hospitals are accredited by JCI, the leading organisation in the International Accreditation of Hospitals for quality of healthcare and patient safety.

Bon Secours Hospitals provide world class medical treatment delivered in a uniquely caring environment. Our 350 Consultants and 2,000 staff welcome and care for more than 200,000 patients annually. With 800 inpatient and day case beds, which represent almost one third of the total private hospital capacity in Ireland, the hospitals have 27 Operating Theatres, 8 Endoscopy Suites and 3 Interventional Laboratories. Investment in excess of €150million in recent years has ensured that our hospitals remain amongst the most technologically advanced healthcare facilities in the country.

Our commitment to Hygiene and Infection Prevention and Control is demonstrated in the HSE report on Hand Hygiene and Compliance in Acute Hospitals where we are consistently the top performers amongst the 54 public and private hospitals surveyed. Our success is directly attributed to our dedicated multidisciplinary staff and consistent delivery of Advanced Medicine and Exceptional Care to all patients.

Bon Secours Hospitals are recognised as teaching hospitals by the Royal College of Surgeons, Dublin City University, University Colleges Cork and Dublin and National University of Ireland Galway.

BON SECOURS HOSPITAL CORK

Bon Secours Hospital Cork is one of the largest independent Catholic hospitals in Europe with 344 beds and is comparable in size and scale to many voluntary and public hospitals in the region.

The hospital is a state of the art facility providing a significant portion of the total acute medical, surgical and specialist care needs of the Munster region. The hospital employs 1,200 staff and has 77 consultants attending the hospital of which 53 are full time private practitioners practicing exclusively at the hospital; delivering a broad range of consultant provided clinical services and expertise to the 100,000 patients treated annually.

As a long established service provider to the population of the greater Munster area with a significant referral pattern from Primary Care in the Cork City and County area, the Hospital plays a central role in the provision of acute care in the region and is highly regarded by GPs and patients. The hospital caters for adults and children, acute and elective medicine and surgery as well as providing day care, inpatient and outpatient services. The outpatient department also supports walk-in minor procedures. There are seven operating theatres, which cater for the full range of day and inpatient surgical procedures. The hospital has a combined Intensive Care Unit (ICU), a medical High Dependency Unit (HDU), a surgical HDU and an Endoscopy unit.
